What are my obligations?

When subscribing this insurance policy:

- Providing all useful information to the insurer or its representative and answering their questions
- Submitting all requested relevant documents to the insurer
- Timely payment of premium established in the Special Terms and Conditions

At the time the insurance policy enters into force:

- Informing the insurer as soon as possible about changes that could have an effect on the insurance cover.

When reporting an insurance claim:

- In case of damage, contact the insurer. When in urgent need of assistance immediately call the assistance support centre. In any event, the insurance claim must be reported in writing to Allianz Assistance within 7 days.
- Within 30 days, you must communicate to Allianz Assistance all useful information and answer all its questions so as to enable the latter to establish the circumstances and scope of the actual damage.
- You must also take all reasonable measures for limiting the consequences of an insurance claim.
- Upon an accident, the illness or injury must be objectively established by a physician and the necessary measures must be taken to reclaim medical costs from the National Social Security Office and all your insurance funds.
- The insured person must communicate the identity of other insurers covering the same risk to Allianz Assistance.
- You must take the necessary measures to submit the medical information regarding the insured person involved to Allianz Assistance.
- Furthermore, you must allow physicians of Allianz Assistance to retrieve the medical information regarding the insured person involved. Finally, you must allow the physician assigned by Allianz Assistance to examine the insured person involved.
- Upon a decease, every beneficiary must immediately communicate the decease to Allianz Assistance in writing so that the latter, if deemed fit, can have an autopsy carried out by a physician of its choice prior to the burial or cremation.

When and how do I pay?

Coverage starts after the payment by the insurance taker or the insured, depending on what has been agreed, of the entire and indivisible first premium to the insurance company or agent by the date of maturity. Payment must be made according to the options given by the seller of this contract. In any event, the warranted covers enter but into force after reception of the first payment.

When does coverage start and end?

The warranted covers enter into force as from 00.00 hours of the date mentioned in the Special Terms and Conditions and end at 24.00 hours of the final day mentioned in the Special Terms and Conditions.

The duration of this contract is 1 year; it is silently extended for consecutive periods of 1 year unless either party opposes such extension at least 3 months prior to the date of maturity.

How do I terminate my contract?

Notice of termination must be given by registered mail or by way of a letter with acknowledgement of receipt or a writ served by a process server. It immediately enters into force within 14 days after having received the pre-signed insurance policy. It is also possible to serve a notice of termination addressed to Allianz Assistance at least 3 months prior to the date of maturity. Finally, the insurance taker or insured person can always terminate the contract upon a change in the General Terms and Conditions subject to a notice period of 3 months.
